Latter-Day Saints & Lamanites except by permission of Superintendent of Indian Affairs. He resided in St. Louis 2d Nephi 30:6 "Lamanites shall become a pure & delightsome people."

Missouri, where no member of the church felt safe in going.

D&C 49:24 "Lamanites shall blossom as the rose."

-Because of strong anti- Mormon feelings t

One of the first missionary journeys to Delaware church never forgot the Lamanites not surprising a special relationship developed hroughout the country, almost any pretext could be used to trap the LDS.

-. But, during the Exodus from western Illinois & SE Iowa to the Great Salt Lake Valley 1846-1853 they encountered tribes who did not know the Saints.

-As the Saints urged their ox-drawn covered wagons over the rolling Iowa prairie, they gave over much legal [...] repinent in SW Iowa, Known then as the Pottawattamie Purchase

-Abandoning Nauvoo in 1846 under increasing mob harassment, the Saints f aced a legal trap in western Iowa territory,

-Federal authorities seemingly were unaware of the direction taken by the fleeing Saints.

- land belonged to Pottawattamie-Ottawa-Chippewa.

- No white has the right to enter that land -And the Saints were unaware of a special conference scheduled in Washington, D.C. between representatives of the federal government and representatives of the Pottawattamie-Ottawa-Chippewa.

-As the vanguard of the Saints wagon trains approached SW Iowa in late May the Pottawattamie-Ottawa-Chippewa Federal Tribe signed an agreement trading their lands to the U.S. Govt in exchange for lands in NE Kansas territory.

-When Saints arrived at the Mo. River, they were welcomed by Indians.
