Middle Mormon Ferry site: This first of three LDS ferries over the Mor

Consisted of a property, Canalked boat capable of hauling two or three covered wagond and teams between bhree dugways cut into the banks of the MoR. The dugways were linked by a huge v-rope. The Iowa dugway was a half ie south of the South Omaha Bridge (Hwy 92). The south Mebraska Dugway was a half mile downsteream at the base of the rivire still just South of Manden Park, exiting at present South 13th and 4sts. The MIssouri River pushed the ferry

From Iowa along the down-leg of the v-rope to the boat was pulled to the North Nebraska Dugway.

Retwon passangers and goods were loaded. The boat was then pushed out, attached to the upper-leg of the v-rope and tce MoR carried it back to Iowa.
